

Dobber's Fantasy Guide 2008-09: Featured Columns

Not only when do you get projections, line combos, power-play units, key player info and prospect odds, but the DobberHockey columnists weigh in with these fantastic articles:

- J Status weighs in with sleeper picks from the Western Conference
- Russ Miller gives you the lowdown on sleepers in the East
- Matt Bugg gives you rookies to watch for besides the obvious (Stamkos, Turris) ones that other guides do to death
- Jeff Angus analyzes the impact of one-way vs. two-way contracts and gives you players to watch as a result of said deals
- Ryan Ma breaks down the penalty minute monsters
- Justin Goldman tells you what to expect from each goaltender worth his salt in the NHL
- Eric Maltais shares his thoughts on the players who will take a step back this season

After Dobber's team-by-team analysis, he gives you some fantasy-relevant columns of his own, such as:

- Dobber's Top 35 Calder Candidates
- Strategy for drafting goaltenders, a must read!
- Projected goals for by team – which team will score a ton more goals? Those are the players you want to target!
- How to deal with the emergence of the Russian KHL in your keeper league
- Predicted final NHL standings
- The Expert Rotisserie-League Draft – 25 rounds of selections by the experts, complete with Dobber's full analysis and thought process heading into each round!

DON'T FORGET – ALL THIS IS UPDATED THROUGHOUT THE SUMMER...AND INTO THE SECOND WEEK OF OCTOBER!!! DON'T BE OUT OF DATE WITH YOUR FANTASY INFO. YOU NEED THIS GUIDE!!
